HALL RULES AND SAFETY REGULATIONS

Climbing and belaying are allowed ONLY AFTER a ticket was bought and the registration form was filled in.

Minors under the age of 14 must be accompanied by an adult.

Climbing is a potentially dangerous activity and therefore requires a high degree of consideration and self responsibility. Climbing and staying in the climbing area occurs at your own risk. Parents or legal guardians are liable for their children.

Bouldering is only allowed at walls designated for bouldering. Bouldering is not allowed in top rope and sport climbing sectors.

Being the lead climber is connected to higher risks of falling. Every climber is responsible for the belaying equipment used. Lead climbers have to use ALL anchors in a route to minimize the risk of grounding.

Top rope climbing is not allowed in overhanging sections. Follow up climbing is allowed, if the rope is attached to all existing securing anchors.

Artificial holds can be loose or break at any time and thereby impose a risk to climbers and other persons or could hurt them. The operator cannot be held responsible for loose or broken holds.

Be aware of the fact that climbing material could fall down at any time. It is recommended to wear a helmet!

For hygienic reasons, climbing in everyday shoes, barefooted, or in socks is not allowed.

The operator of the gym, the employees or appointed staff can only be held liable in case of gross negligent action.

No attempts should be made to alter holds or features or place new holds or features in any way.

Please look after your clothes and equipment. The operator excludes all liability in case of loss or theft.

Persons infringing the rules & regulations or not obeying the instructions of our staff can be excluded from using the facilities. In this case, the ticket will not be refunded.

Courses may be held only if pre-booked and approved by the operator of the gym.

All visitors of the climbing gym have to comply with our regulations "Climbing safely indoors" – see the information.
